When tying the tie columns and bond beams together, care must be taken to ensure adequate anchor length and additional stirrups near every joint.